

High Uncertainty Projects

Opportunity Self-Assessment

Issues / concerns	No	Somewhat	Yes
1 Do you have an ongoing or near term plans for a new project or initiative of exceptional importance to your organization?	1	2	3
2 Are there aspects of the project or initiative that are extremely novel?	1	2	3
3 Are you concerned that you may not be able to successfully complete the project?	1	2	3
4 Is it difficult to estimate the costs and effort needed to successfully achieve some of the key tasks or deliverables?	1	2	3
5 Is there a significant degree of urgency associated with this project.	1	2	3
6 Are you uncomfortable with your existing project management tools, systems and approach as applied to this project?	1	2	3
7 Are you aware that only a little over 10% of the initiatives funded by angel investors and under 20% of the initiatives funded by venture capitalists successfully meet their targets?	1	2	3
8 Are you a decision maker, or the decision maker related to funding this project or initiative?	1	2	3

Scoring Methodology: Add-up the total score of your self-assessment (circled scores).

If you scored; 20 or higher, you may benefit from a new process for the planning and execution of high uncertainty projects developed by